TOne of the trucks of the locomotive of the 4 o'clock down train on the U. H. & D. Road broke when the engine neared Carrollton yes terday evening, causing the locomotive and tender to get off the track. The train was going slowly at the time, or more serious consequences would have resulted. As it was, the and the up train was detained so that it did not reach here until about half past 10 o'clock last night. Fortunately no one was injured.

"Then 'sax Inc'sa"-A gentleman, who is supposed to be partial to the above regetable, went to market a morning or two since, with the determination of providing himself with a supply; and observing some very fine ones upon a stand, immediately stepped up to the proprietor to inquire how he sold his "ouions." This query did not seem to be understood by the latter, as no direct answer was obtained ; whereupon the question was repeated, with no better results. The gentleman began to grow impatient, and resolved to make a third effort, which he did by giving the word "onions" a peculiar emphasis. At this juncture the vender made himself audible by several "chs," "sirs," etc., while the unfortunate lover of and going into his solitary home, sat down action a cure is indicated.
